Maybe you can talk to your parents and they will support you in that what they will feel if you cheated is very different from you cheating in Internet? May 9, 2012 Arch GM commands Edit this file and add what you wish to see in game. After you make changes, you have to type the gm command "update_trammel". (They also wrote a script that works on non-GM servers to automatically update the server, so if you have a GM that isn't this one, try that.). If you type "onupdateconfig", you'll load this file. In the updates directory, go to trammel/config and open the file forge_config.yml which resides in the.ragnarok/forge/config directory. You can add some additional repositories here. On this file, you need to add the following line just before this line: "repository": "", "repository": "", If you type "onupdateconfig" now, there will be a message that says: "You have successfully updated the config file. It can be found at: /.ragnarok/config/forge_config.yml". IMPORTANT: You need to fix your active forge_config.yml file to match your updated config file. Go to forge/forge_config/config and remove the line above. Save and restart. To add repositories, the syntax is "". Look at this file and figure out how to use the command to get the "discovery" version of forge from the forge_updates.yml file. Feb 24, 2012 Hacking: Building your own custom script (Tested) To do it, open the.ragnarok folder in your Documents and open the.bat
